

REMARKS

The title was amended to better reflect the allowed claims. (This is a divisional application where the allowed claims are directed to a transformer device. While the title does not need to correspond to the claims, and certainly does not limit the claims, some correspondence may be desirable for informational purposes.)

Claims 83 – 107 were allowed. Claims 83 and 103 are being amended herein.

In claim 83, the deletion of "the core" provides better correspondence to the first paragraph of claim 83 stating: "a single core comprising a substantially rectangular shaped magnet having four sides, wherein two sides of the rectangular shaped magnet are parallel to each other."

In claim 103, Applicant amended a minor typographical error.

If there are any outstanding issues, the Examiner is invited to call the undersigned at the telephone number provided below.
